Generate Revenue & Maximise Your Returns
when you choose Eltel for your dismantling project

Eltel is pleased to introduce its global partner, TXO Systems.

TXO Systems works with its clients to responsibly and sustainably acquire, redeploy, resell, and recycle technology assets, allowing them to generate revenues, reduce expenses and achieve corporate responsibility objectives.

Dismantle, Resell, Recycle

Step 1. Work with Eltel as you normally would.

Step 2. Upon receipt of a detailed inventory, TXO will provide an instant fair market valuation for your assets. There will be two commercial offerings, an outright purchase and a consignment offer.

Step 3. Make your selection. TXO will arrange safe transit of equipment from your facility to ours.

Step 4. If you have chosen the consignment model, you will have access to our inventory management portal, i-TRAC™, where you can track your parts through the sales process and receive immediate feedback on the revenue generated.

What are the benefits of consignment vs. outright purchase?

Consignment provides an ongoing revenue stream where you can elect to take the revenue generated either as cash or a credit.

With the outright purchase model you will get your returns immediately, whereas with consignment it may take longer but customers typically enjoy much higher returns over an extended period.

Through the consignment model, all parts remain the customer's property until sold. If you wish to call back parts for re-deployment, TXO will repackage them for shipping and route them to you.

Track, measure & control your asset recovery campaigns with i-TRAC™

- Every item is tracked from beginning to end, providing complete transparency and control over all asset recovery projects
 - Helps you evaluate your inventory on a company-wide basis so that you can redeploy assets to other locations and determine the best method of disposition
 - Customer dashboard provides detailed equipment lists allowing you to identify all items by manufacturer's part number, serial number or project
 - Keeps your data secure – a completely secure HTTPS password-protected platform, accessible by authorised users only
 - Helps you save cost and generate income by avoiding the expense of purchasing equipment that you already own and by reselling surplus inventory to other end users
